

A Narrative Essay on "Adventurous Experience of Your Life" – Tips & Tricks 2022

There is a particular type of essay in which the writer is required to narrate a story and event or happening. This particular type of essay is known as a narrative essay. All the different types of essays are different from one another on the basis of the purpose for which they are written and the way they are written. For example, in an argumentative essay, the writer is required to present a number of different arguments to persuade his audience to accept the viewpoint or perspective.

However, a narrative essay is written to narrate a story happening or an event. This clearly shows the difference between the different types of essays. Apart from all that, to effectively write essays a writer should possess effective writing skills. Professional writers such as the one offering online services like professional essay writing service mostly suggest the beginner writers improve their writing skills as effective writing skills can help in writing any type of essay for paper.

Writing an effective narrative essay is all about planning what should be written in the essay. Most of the students hesitate in effectively writing different types of essays. I heard a sixth-grade child telling her younger brother "Please help me college essay writer by writing an essay for me or get it done for me as I am not good at effectively writing essays". Upon hearing this the brother replied, "Sister it is all about collecting ideas and planning how those ideas would be narrated effectively to the audience". A number of different steps or ways can be used by students as well as beginner writers in effectively writing narrative essays. Mentioned below are some of those tips:

1. Selecting a topic for the narrative essay holds great value in effectively narrating the story event or happening to the audience. The reason behind this is that selecting a topic that interests the writer will help him develop more ideas or ways to narrate the story completely and clearly to his audience. On the other hand, a topic for the narrative essay should also be selected keeping into consideration the interest of the audience. This will help the writer in attracting the attention of the audience very easily and without putting in the extra effort.
2. Plan what you will write in the narrative essay before giving it a start. This planning can be accomplished by preparing a comprehensive outline for the narrative essay. This outline will comprise the basic points that you aim to include in your narrative essay. Apart from that, this will help in maintaining a flow of information throughout the essay.
3. Make sure to use words and sentences that clearly express your ideas and help the readers understand what you want to convey without putting effort. An essay writer free always focuses on the tone as well as the way he is communicating his ideas with his audience.
4. Maintain the overall consistency of your narrative essay by maintaining the consistency of each of the paragraphs individually.
5. Attract the attention of your audience by creating a background image in their mind at the start of the narrative essay.

Sample narrative essay on “adventurous experience of your life”

We often deal with life situations that make us stressed and tired both physically as well as mentally. In my case, it is not just the life situations that make me stressed and tired. Rather my hectic Practical, as well as academic routine, has played a huge contribution in providing me stress. Some days have been so hectic and tiresome that I just wanted to get rid of the daily life routine. Apart from that, the tiring usual routine has made me think of living what I am doing and moving to a place that provides me with both physical as well as mental peace.

It was the middle of July when I was assigned a huge project. The burden of the project and its successful accomplishment provided me with continual mental stress which in turn affected my physical health as well. After the completion of the project, I instantly decided to go for an adventurous tour. After thinking I decided to go to Versova beach.

The very next morning I packed my bag and started my journey towards Versova beach. After reaching the beach my eyes would blow away as I had never ever seen such a huge sea in my life. The windy air was blowing my face away and was making my hair rustle in the air. The rustling sound of leaves was mesmerizing and the freeze breeze of air was providing me a tight hug. The stunning and breathtaking view of Versova beach blew away all my negative thoughts. I felt like all this was forcefully holding my hand and making me dance in the air.

I always loved spending time alone and this experience made me realize that this time was made just for my mental peace. I sat on a huge tetrapod rock, wrapped my legs around, closed my eyes, and felt the gentle and relaxing sound of seawater.

I spent my entire day at Versova beach. During the entire day, there was not a single moment I thought of going back. Even though I went there alone, I never felt bored. I enjoyed the company that was provided to me by the Versova beach and its beauty. At the end of that day, I thought "Wow what an adventurous experience it was".
